To Todd
You know your happy that school is almost to end this year. If you come back next year well all the seniors and your former upset that means were gona be crazy maybe even to crazy for the teachers to be able to handle us anyway good luck during the summer this and the rest of the years to come
Your Friend Michael
Greene

Dear Todd,

Getting to know you in band. I've found out that you're a real fun person to be around with. We had fun on the band tour, but Mr. Bennett has to go. I'm just sick of him. Well, next year you'll be the seniors of this school I guess then you could rule it. Well, take it easy and help the band out next year it need it. Well, I'll be seeing you.

Friends,
Marcelo

Dear Todd,

Too bad that the school years almost, almost, over. It has really been fun and wild knowing you through the years. The best times we ever had was when we used to run P.V. Hosp. in the palm of our hands. We used to be really crazy and Mrs. Vogt, and Marlynda didn't even know what was going on. We should have kept our jobs there cause by now that whole place would have been all ours. Well, I hope and trust that your class will take over the high standard of which our class had, I'm sure you will. Well take care of yourself and I hope that we can keep in touch with each other in the future. Visit me at the store.

See Ya,
Friends Always,
Jeff

Wow D've got to write a full page D don't know - but D'll try. So how was school for you this year? D was o.k. for me D had alot of fun seeing you in the same classes with you. Getting rowdy and rebellious against-oops- in class. It seems like our class has come closer and closer together. Thats great.

Geometry is the funnest class. Well just have to have more classes like that next year.

Todd you are a nice and funny guy except for when you decide to get a little mean (trick).

Hey. D'm sorry for the little incident at work. D'm over it. But D feel after the who thing we have become better friends D hope it stays that way.

Well D guess D'll be seeing alot of you this summer since we are working in the same place.

So, oh Todd. Are you going to be in band next year? D'm thinking of joining and you were always bugging me about joining, so D just may.

Well, Todd maybe over the years maybe all of us "animals" will become good friends ("Frog") Don't worry about D'm sure you enjoyed the 100,000 candy bar.

Have a great summer. Don't get to crazy and wild, but have fun. Maybe a bunch of us can go out and get a little weird.

Oh well, D've written a full page now, my "tradition" D don't know if it makes sense. But D promise next year will be long and good! See ya — Be yourself PEACE

Rocks this Dude Love

Dear Todd,

Here is the end of another school year (my last year) Boy, this year went by super fast. It was lots of fun watching how crazy and funny you were and also your friends. I'm really going to miss all of you guys when I'm up at college. Oh well that's life. Too bad I didn't get to know you better, I really wish we did; oh, maybe in the near future. Next year you will be the "Big Senior" of SDA. I really do hope you all have lots of crazy and fun times like our class did. I better stop here.

Todd, take care of yourself and I wish you all the luck in whatever you do.

Take Care

Love,

DEDICATION

To Marsha Serafin who has put so much time and effort into the production of this book. During her four years as yearbook advisor, we have watched her grow in skill and talent; and just as past yearbooks have testified to this growth, we believe that in this year's annual it has reached its highest point so far.

To Sera and to the spirit of industry and creativity, this book is dedicated.

Dear Todd,
Well this year has to be one of the better ones... Bet-e them last year anyway.
m glad I came back I ally would have missed very one. Im glad we had a couple classes together...
hey would have been sooo oring otherwise... Especially istory. Can you believe we'll Seniors next year.. Actually
Only 3 weeks! You guys ter calm down by next ar, the school wouldn't make t through another year of you Todd & Kelvin! Have a great ummer, don't, no, get real rowdy hich Im sure you will!
e ya next year!
! Rock this town!! Love ya
yse

aren't Grands;
It's been a pleasure have you in my
ass. You are a wonderful boy.
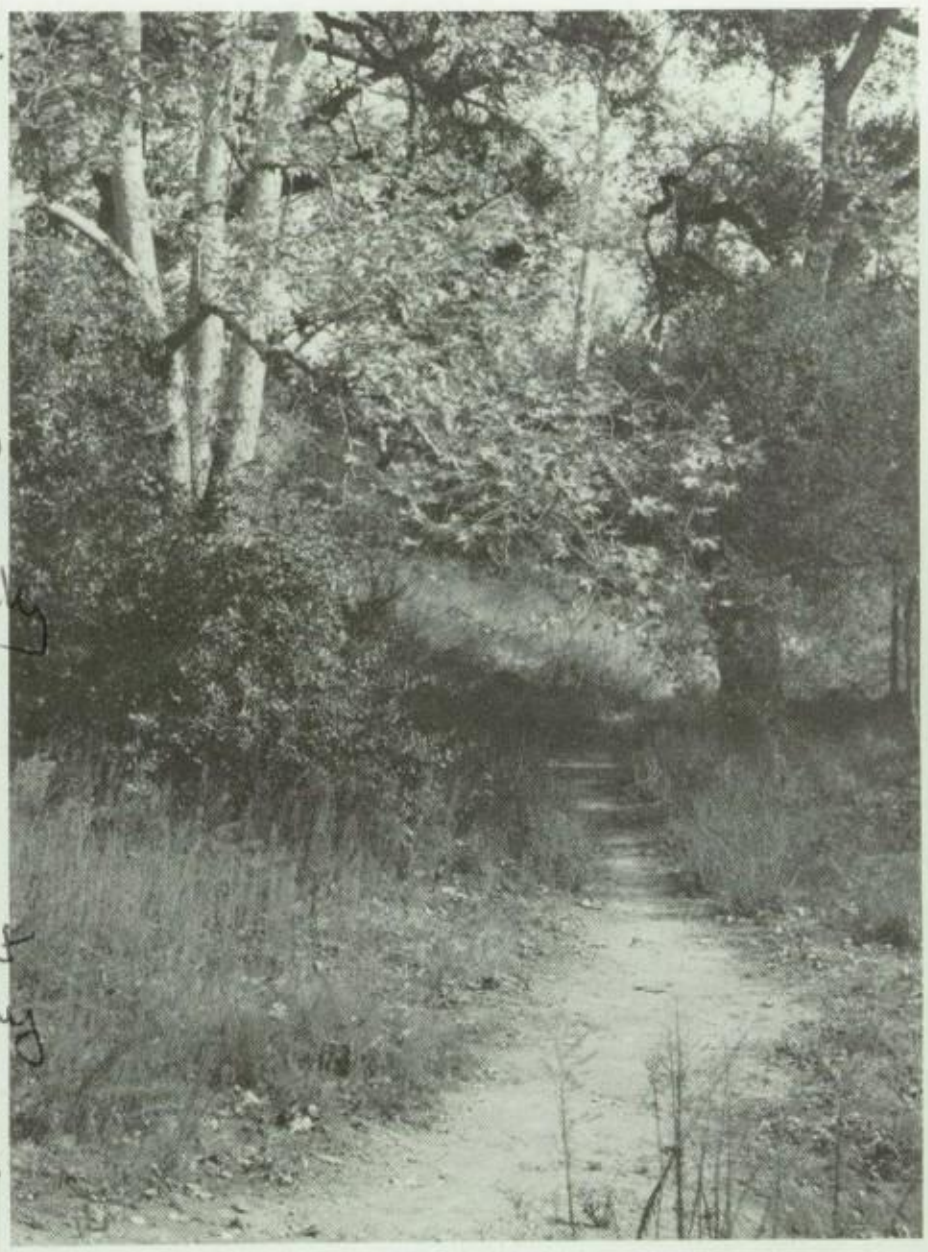
Have a nice Summer
nd best wishes much love,
mrs. Castillo



The traveller stopped his journey
On an old, deserted road,
And beneath a gnarled but shady tree
Set down his heavy load.

His mind drifted off to reflection
On how he came to be
Such a tired old man sitting breathless
Underneath that particular tree.

Some of the way he remembered
Where the path was especially bright,
When he looked up and caught for a second
a glimpse of an eagle in flight.

He recalled a few rooftops in winter
And the snowfalls that clothed them in white.
Leaves and wheatfields in summer;
The sky, cloudless, starry at night.

Some memories stuck with him;
Many had flickered and failed.
But he had to keep in the back of his mind
Each fork at appeared in the trail.

He knew such partings were frequent
And the path was unclear in the frost.
So he had to be ready for junctions ahead
Since he couldn't afford to be lost.

So with us in our lives when September
Changes slowly but surely to June.
What things will we choose to remember?
What will we forget someday soon?

Will some sights and sounds be casualties
Some people, places and things.
Some dreams that are no longer dreamt will be gone,
Flown away on their paper-thin wings.

But important decisions stick with us
When other thoughts long since are dead,
For the roads we choose in a year or a month
We will travel still ten years ahead.

— John Owen

There are certain people
you come into contact with here at school who you hold in awe. You have your entire life ahead of you and I a great deal of potential to accomplish anything you choose to. You make your goals high remembering that God also has a plan for you. He can use talented people dedicated to Him. I hope life gives to you all you desire. Hope to see you next year.

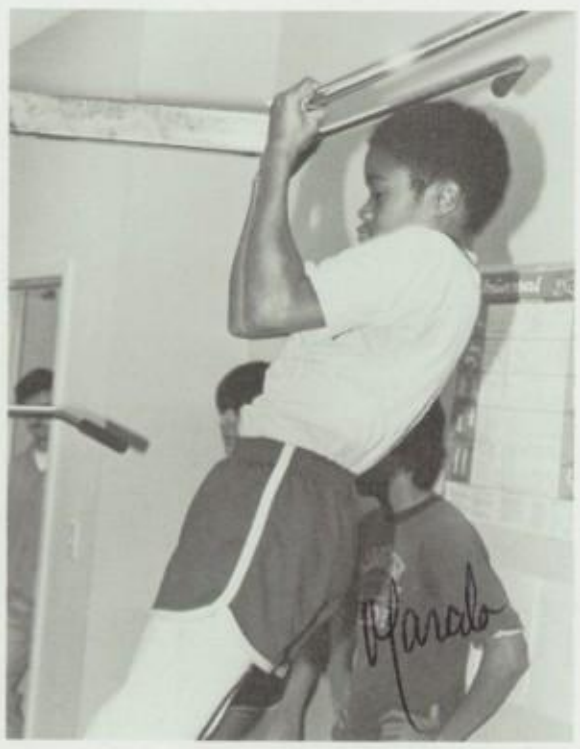
SPORTS

WEIGHT ROOM

A complete universal gym, donated by Dr. Walter Fahlsing, proved a valuable addition to the P.E. department. The 13 station weight machine is located in the former health room. The weight room is a regular part of the Academy's physical fitness program and is also available for use after school.

The clanking of weights and occasional grunts and puffs echoing through the weight room is proof of the work that goes into pumping iron. The universal is a great opportunity for the guys to get buff. Although the girls are not as enthusiastic about working up a sweat, trim tummies and shaped up muscles are something worth working for.

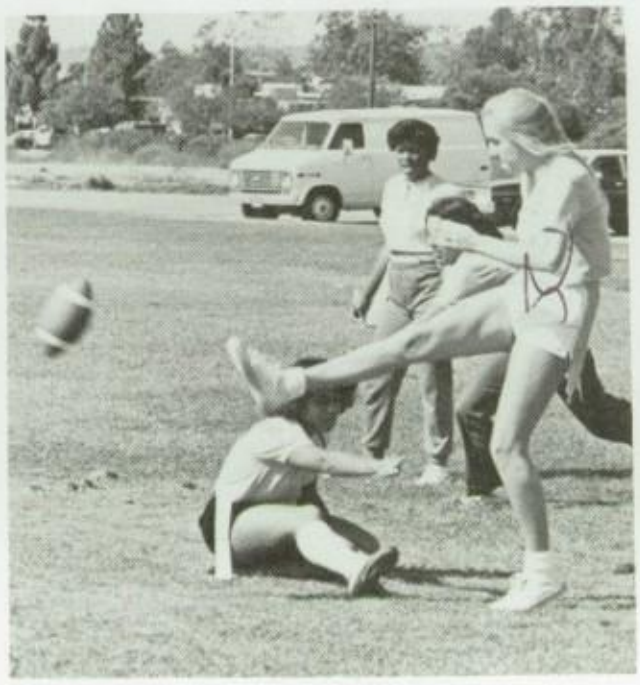


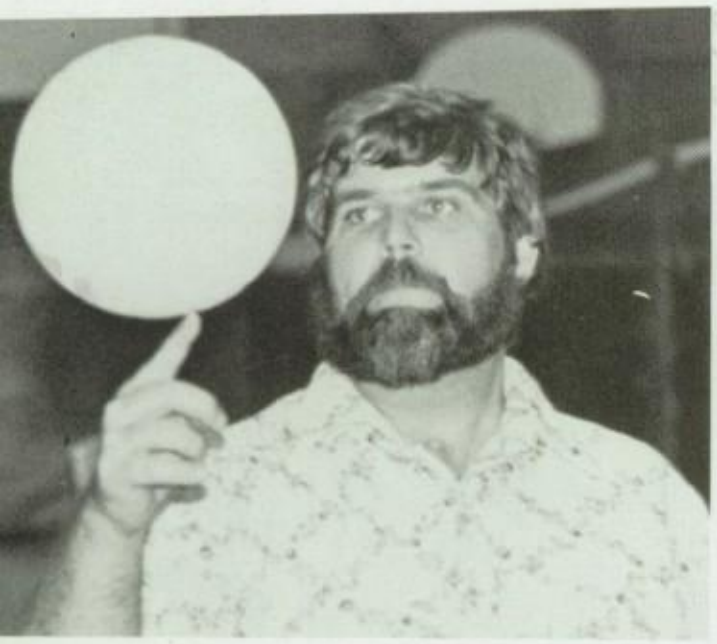
FOOTBALL

Due to the cancellation of the 82-83 professional football season, boy's flag football intramurals met a new enthusiasm this year. Six teams fought vigorously to attain first place. Some met with dissappointment as others triumphed. The faculty team, under the direction of Kevin Knutsen, went unchallenged, winning out over the Forty-Niners, headed by John Damon, in the Championship game.

GIRL'S FLAGBALL

Girl's flagball was eagerly awaited this year. Everyone wanted her class to win the big game at the fall picnic and this goal provided the motivation for an unusual amount of effort and practice. During PE, the girls were taught the art of football. They learned to throw, catch, block and rush. The games were competitive but fun as Sera coached us in the art of "friendly" football. All those skills were put into use at the picnic. Apparently the Sophomores and Seniors learned the most because they won their hard-fought games over the Freshmen and Juniors.





VOLLEYBALL

Four teams actively participated in the third annual volleyball extravaganza this year. The senior team, headed by Jeff Barrera, dominated the courts throughout the evening and went unchallenged. Second place went to Andy Seaton's team. Tina Bottroff's team rallied to hold third place while the faculty team placed fourth.

BASKETBALL

The basketball craze bounced in with the new year as A and B league intramurals got underway. For B league teams battled it out in the afternoon while the four A league teams took the honored spot in the evenings.

The games were action-paced as the teams dashed back and forth sinking baskets with style. Students came to cheer on their favorite team.

The B league teams and captains were: Spurs — Edward Crew, Clippers — Jason Bingham, Sonics — Kenneth Garcia, and Suns — Allan Cortez.

The A league teams and captains were: Celtics — Alvin Najera, Lakers — Billy Hudson, 76ers — Jeff Barrera, and the Bucks — Faculty.

TEAM HANDBALL

The girls came back from Christmas vacation fat and lazy from all the holiday feasting. But trusty Sera had an answer to the problem. She immediately threw her girls into spirited games of Team Handball. Running around and throwing the ball to teammates helped to put the girls back in shape.

Although Team Handball is a strenuous activity it can also be enjoyable. Laughing, breathless, red-faced girls are evidence of the healthy fun that takes place on the field. Occasionally there are minor skirmishes, but most of the time the girls conduct themselves with good sportsmanship and play to have fun.

It's hard to stand up in this game!

Im such a jock!

TENNIS

With the cutback of classes, several students found themselves facing second semester with an open period. To meet the problem a new class was developed. For the first time a tennis class was offered to selected students. The class was limited to a certain number so not everyone was able to join.

Under the supervision of Mr. Keresoma, students first practiced their skills against the walls of the gym. After everyone was acquainted with the game, Mr. K marched his troops to the nearby El Toyan Park to continue their training. Exercising under sunny San Diego skies appealed to the students and was one of the benefits of this new class.

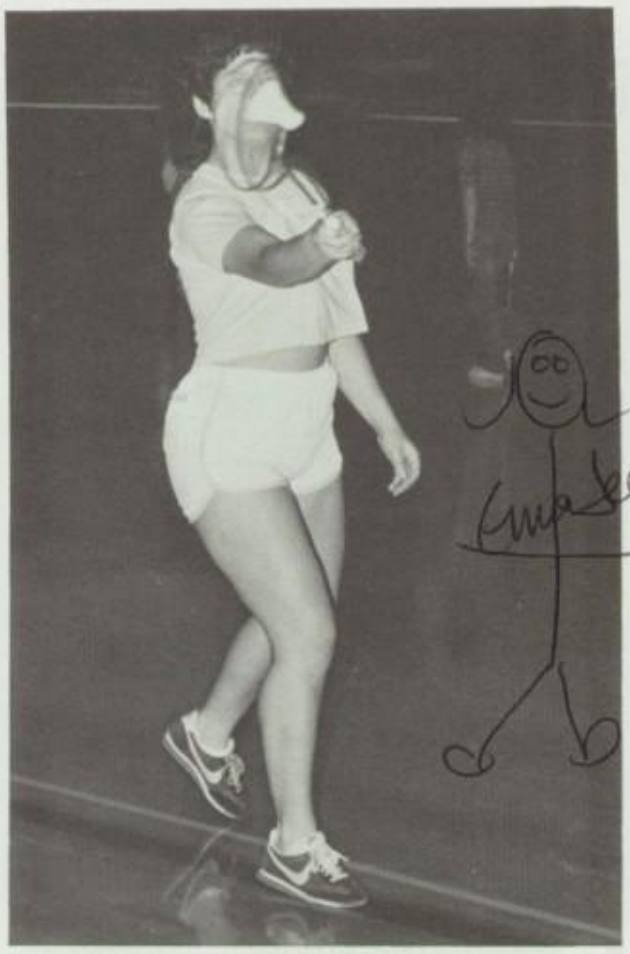
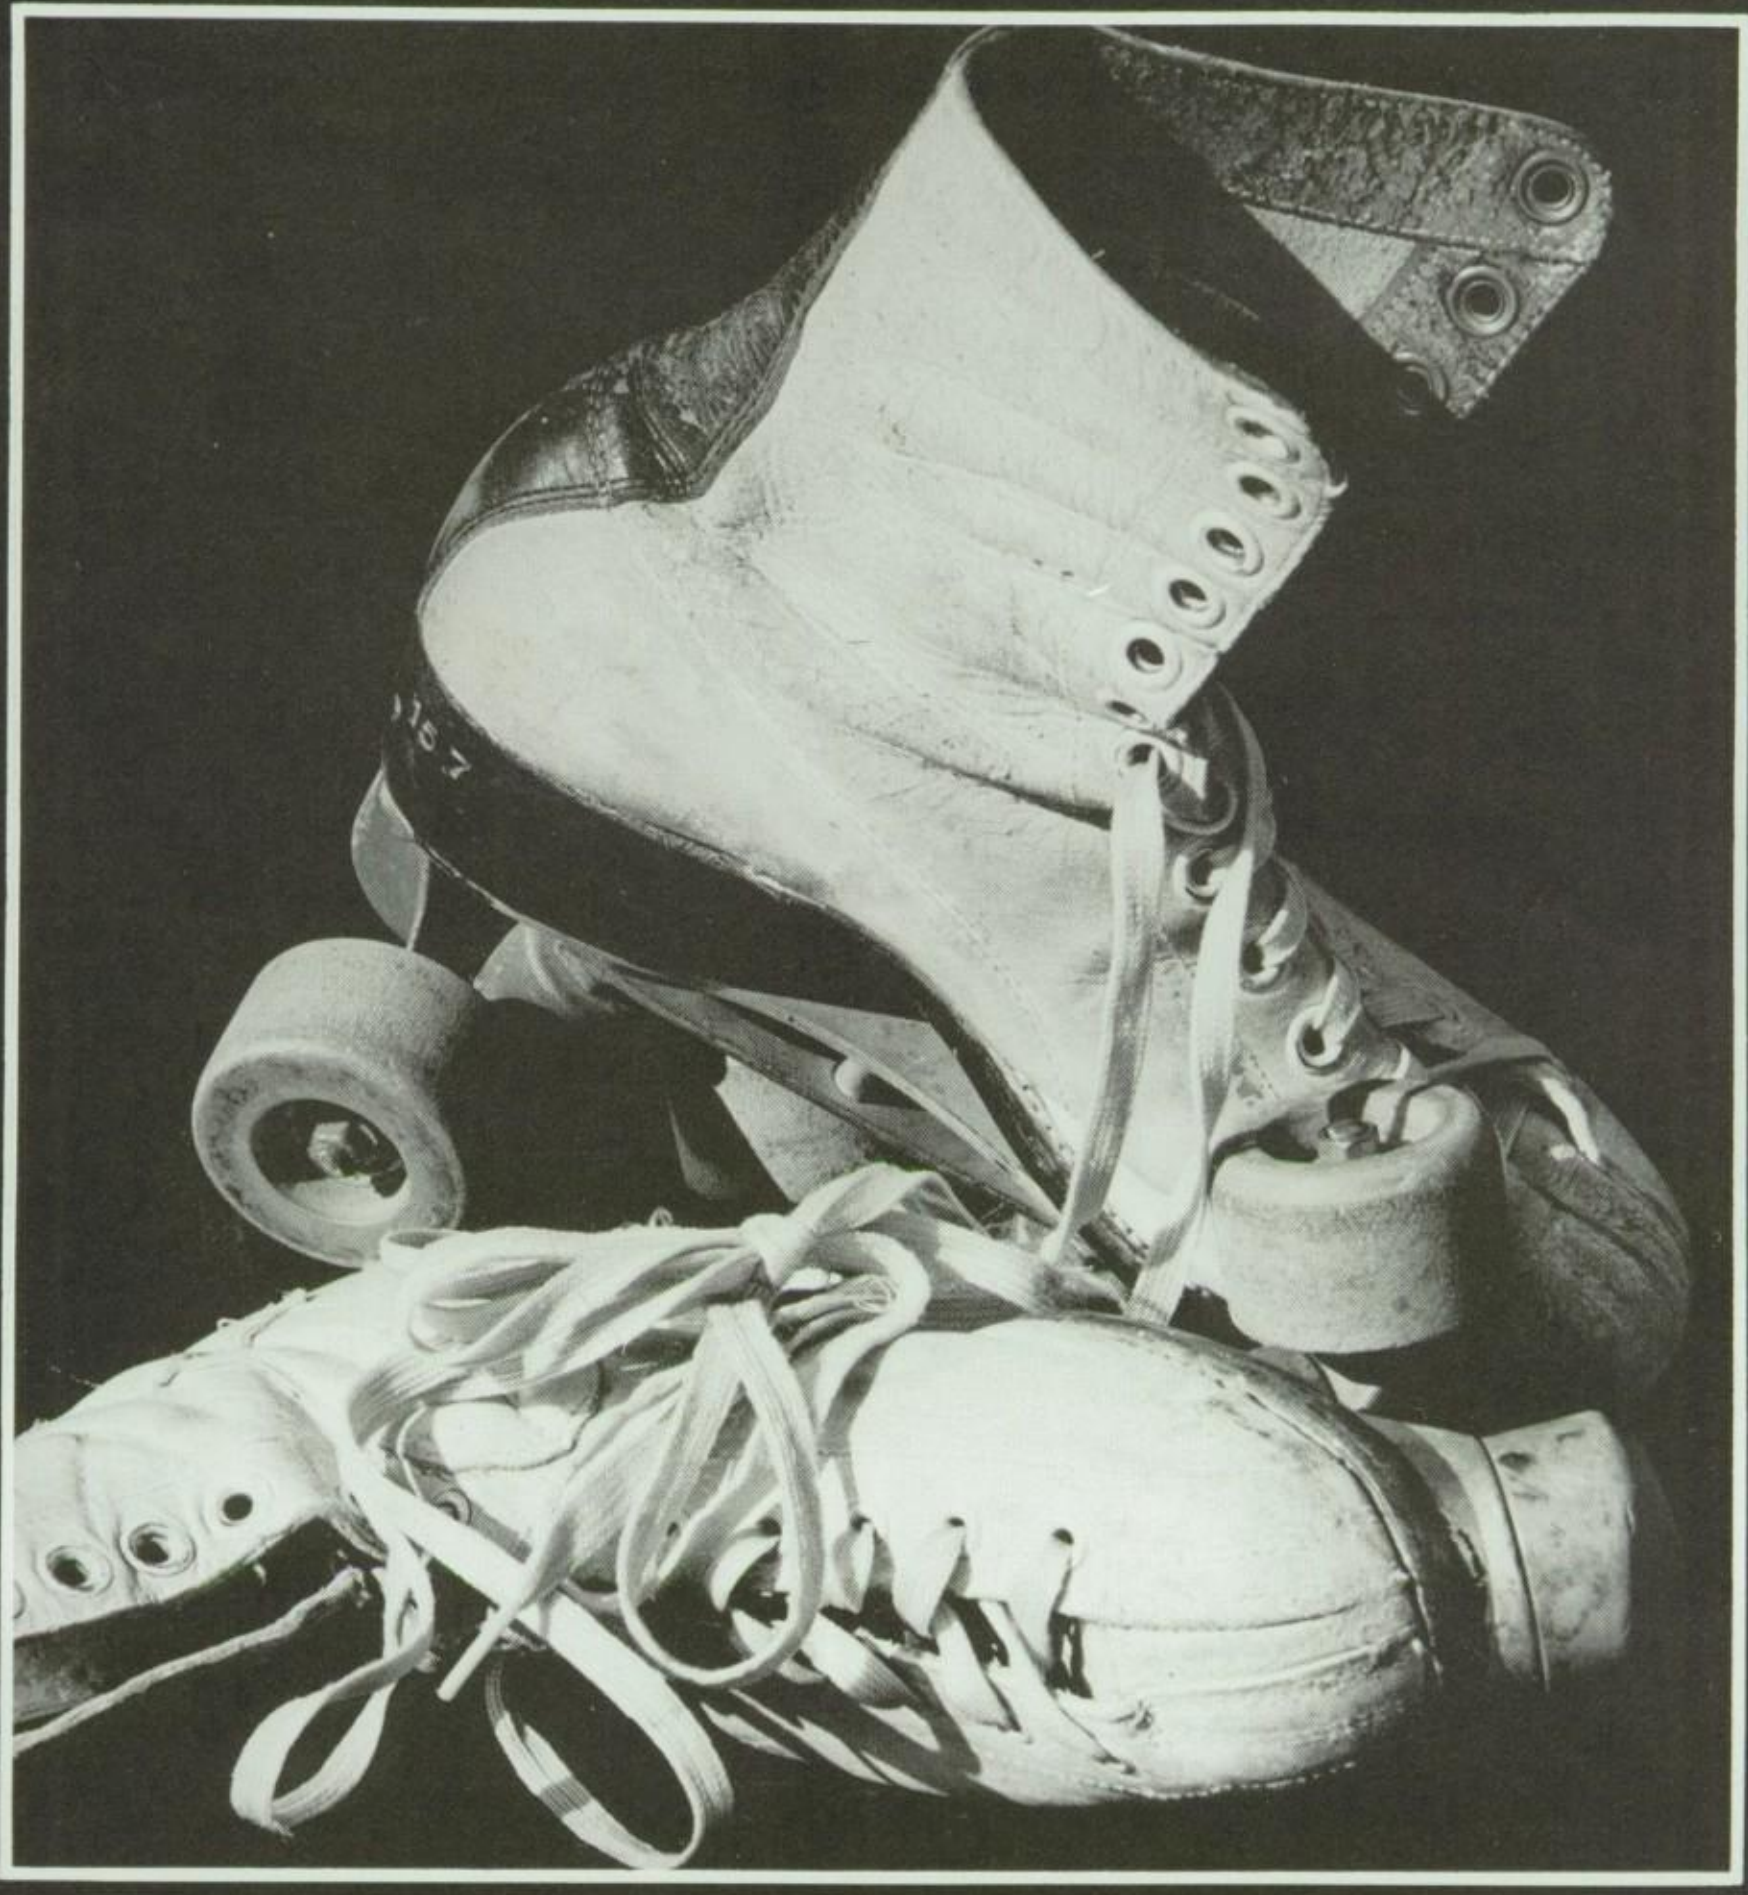
Birdies and points flew back and forth at the third annual SA badminton tournament which was held this year on the last Saturday night in February. Twelve teams entered the competition and all of them played their hearts out.

The rounds went quickly and the number of occupied courts slowly dwindled as teams were eliminated one by one. The match for first place was between the reigning champ, Kelvin Kon, and his partner against Alvin Najera and alumnus Cameron Matthews. The match was hardfought and filled with dramatic shots, but Alvin and Cameron finally clinched the point for victory. Third place went to Dennis Shetler and David White after a close match against Coach and his borther, Chico.

The hot and tired winners were awarded a dozen donuts per team. The first place team also recieved a trophy.





ACTIVITIES

GET ACQUAINTED SOCIAL

The annual Get Acquainted Social boasted the largest attendance in several years. It opened with a short vesper program with skits performed by the SA officers. The fun began with the traditional handshake and continued through the evening with other various activities. Everyone's favorite game was musical arms. Girls and guys alike were able to race with the music. We finished off with brownies and ice cream served by the SA.

HAT DAY

Hats and laughter filled the Student Center as the smell of pancakes wafted through the morning air. The SA pancake breakfast and hat day was attended with great spirit by all.

While the pancakes were being downed by the students, Mr. K emceed the judging. The first place winners were:

Scott Garcia, ugliest; Esther Gonzalez, smallest; Vivian Lopez, biggest; Kelly Moore, prettiest; Wendi Fulwider, most creative.

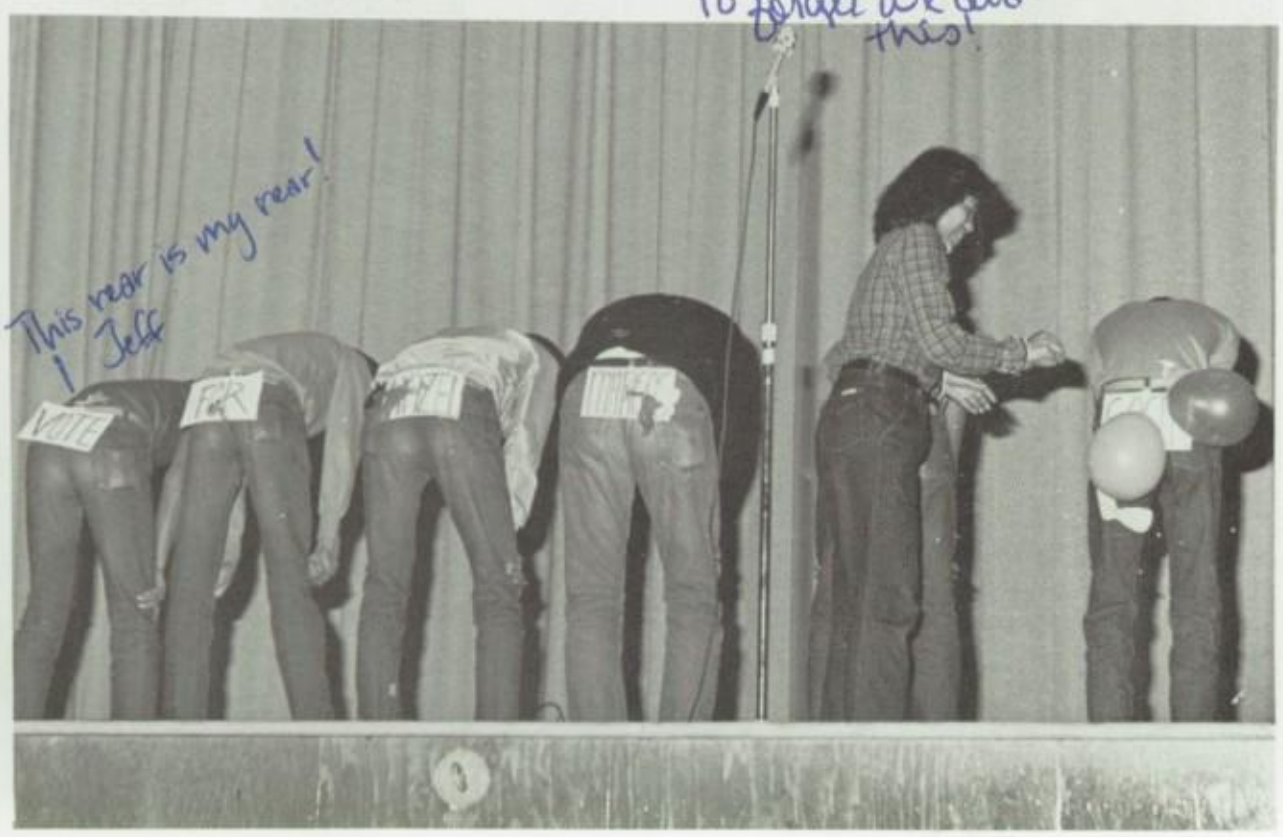
S.A. ELECTIONS



The beginning of the new semester brought about the election of second semester SA officers. Students generally look forward to elections because they like being entertained by their peers. Elections were held during 8th period and dragged on at first between skits, but picked up momentum as they progressed.

Some of the skits were not in the best taste, but were well-received by the audience. Props and costumes livened up the skits as courageous students cavorted on the stage. Super Sylvia bounding into the room brought roars of laughter as did other hilarious acts. The skits and speeches were done in fun and brought enjoyment to both the participants and the audience.

SAND SCULPTURE DAY

On a cloudy September morning, four buses unloaded excited students at Silver Strand Beach. With not a moment to spare the students were rushed off to the Tug-of-War, the first event. In the final rounds, Freshmen and Sophomores lined opposite sides of the rope with the Sophomores clinching the win. The Junior and Senior bout followed with the Juniors pulling the first place victory out of the Seniors hands.

After lunch the classes grouped together for the main event and seriously began to create their works of art. This year the classes tried to build reasonable facsimiles of designer labels. The result of everyone working together was impressive. After the judging was finished all of the students huddled around to hear the outcome.

The Juniors' Izod alligator placed fourth, Seniors' Le Tigre third, Freshmen's Sasson second, and Sophomores' Dragon was first.

WAWONA

In early October the SA officers went to Camp Wawona for a leadership Bible Conference. It was a new experience for most of them and one which they really enjoyed. They learned how to be effective leaders through the meetings and the different activities. Ideas and goals were shared with other student leaders from schools all over the Pacific Union Conference.

Besides meeting new friends, our officers grew closer together. The close companionship they gained during the four days spent in Wawona will better enable them to accomplish the work at our school.

Hey! I don't know these people!

I'm scared of the deer

I want to play!

SKATE

The Junior class sponsored a skate night early this year as a fundraiser. The evening was divided into two parts. In the first half the elementary students skated. The second half consisted of the Junior High and Academy students skating and playing games. The Grand March, Crack the Whip and Steal the Bacon were the activities on the agenda. The evening was a success for the Junior class and for everyone who attended.

WILD WEST FAIR

The Wild West Fair, held on campus October 31, was a tremendous success. The fair was produced to provide money for the bus fund and for the Academy's student organizations. Preparations began far in advance. Under the leadership of Claudia Giddings booths were set up and food was prepared. Bales of hay were strewn over the black top, and students, teachers and friends were recruited to lend a hand.

Finally the day arrived along with hundreds of people curious about the fair and interested in the free car wash in front of the school. There was a jail where unsuspecting revellers were temporarily incarcerated and games were played on equipment borrowed from computer class. Over in the gym, faculty members sang, acted and otherwise cavorted on stage. One of the biggest attractions was the dunking tank where participants threw balls at a target in an effort to sink the principal and other dignitaries into a tank of water. The fair made much more money than expected and provided an enjoyable experience for all concerned.

FALL PICNIC

The Fall Picnic, held this year at Kearny Mesa Park, gave students a break from daily routine. The day's events began with a chariot race, and a pyramid contest followed. Everyone then moved on to the courts for the basketball relay. In this game students passed a ball through their legs to the end of the line where the last person had five chances to make a basket.

Next was the centipede relay. Here teams consisting of four participants weaved their way through a course on hands and knees. The most difficult event of the morning, the obstacle course, followed. It consisted of balloon blowing, hopping, popping, crabwalking, bubble blowing, and paper shooting.

Boys' and girls' flagball followed lunch. The competition was fierce at times, but in the end the Seniors and Sophomores pulled out two victories apiece. When the points were tallied, the Juniors came out slightly ahead in the day's events.

SPIRIT WEEK

Spirit Week provides a chance for each class to win points for their class total. Points are awarded for participation in each event. Spirit week started on its feet with Sock Day as the first event. The object was to wear mis-matched socks. Wednesday was Senior Auction Day. During chapel the Senior class was auctioned off to prospective owners. The bidding was fierce at times as the students were eager to own a senior for the day. The crowning finale was Jeff Barrera who was bought by Vanessa Buie for $25.10. The students got their money's worth as the seniors carried books, sang ditties, gave piggyback rides and did all sorts of foolish things for their owners. The next event was Athelete's Day. Our school was turned into a training camp for all sports as students dressed up as athletes. Joggers, tennis players, professional sport fans, and the like tracked through the hallways and classes. Friday our school underwent a change as students braved the stormy weather to look their best. Dress-up Day was the event and the girls looked like proper young ladies in pretty dresses. Even the boys looked sharp in their nice shirts and ties. Although this transformation lasted only a day, it was nice to see how classy the student body looked.

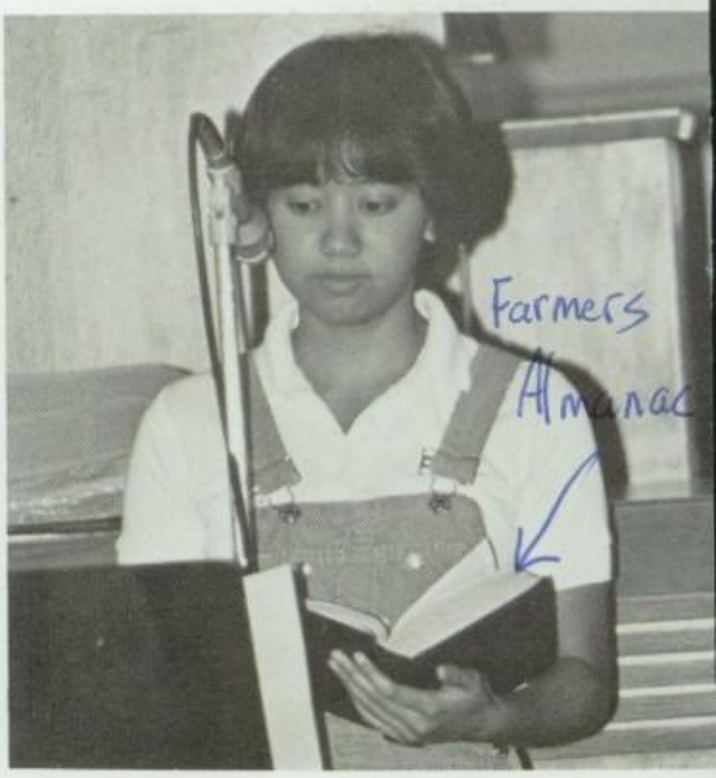
FALL WEEK OF PRAYER



Early in October, the school had its Fall Week of Prayer, a series of five programs of music and sermon, at the Paradise Valley Church. Each meeting began with a song service where the assembly was given song sheets and encouraged to sing along. This was followed by a musical number performed by a talented student or teacher. Lastly, Elder David Taylor gave a sermon relating biblical symbols of God's concern for all people to contemporary life. Much work went into these programs and the pains taken paid off to produce a relaxing but thought provoking series.

CHRISTMAS BANQUET

The weather was chilly and foggy outside, but inside the Hyatt Islandia Hotel the atmosphere was warm with Christmas cheer and excitement. The Christmas banquet was a gala event for everyone. The food was delicious and the room hummed with the sound of pleasant conversation and the tinkling of silverware.

Musical entertainment was provided by former Academy students Mike Mirasol and Lisa and Anthony Nioso. Defective mikes slightly marred their performance, but their music was appreciated by all. A short animated film followed, that depicted the real spirit of Christmas.

Finally, Santa came to visit the students. His tall, lean form and baggy red suit reflected the economic squeeze felt everywhere this year, including the South Pole. Santa not only handed out presents, but remembered the birthday boy, Lenny Hall, with a little gift. Then he entertained the audience with a questionable account of how Rudolph got a red nose.

The evening ended with Santa's departure, leaving the audience wanting more. Though the banquet was over, those in attendance left with a happy feeling. The fog had thickened making it difficult to drive. Many banquet goers got lost and one even lost his car for over an hour.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Junior High and Academy students carrying lighted candles ushered in the beginning of the Christmas program. Christmas around the world was the theme of the evening. Grades K-8 entertained the audience with songs from Hawaii, France, and Spain. The song from the Islands was a big favorite with everyone. A troupe of hula girls and a boy swayed across the stage during the song much to the delight of everyone. After a short selection from the Elementary band the Girls Chorus sang two songs. The Sigma Delta Chorale followed, singing a song from Africa and finishing with a salute to Irving Berlin. A mass choir composed of grades K-12 was the grand finale. Candles were once again lighted and cast cheery shadows on the gym walls as the students sang "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

JR/SR BIBLE CAMP

Junior-Senior Bible Camp was held at Pine Springs Ranch. Upon registering, the multitudes met at the cafeteria for their first exposure to PSR food. After a meeting Thursday night, students retreated to their rooms. The sponsors anticipated sleep but soon found out they would be kept awake all night by energetic students. Friday a series of meetings began. Each meeting covered an area of special interest to the students. In the afternoon students had free time to hike, sleep, or engage in other activity. The guest speaker for the weekend, Pastor David Taylor, gave a short vespers and later that evening JACOB'S LADDER presented a musical program. Sabbath morning the weekend's meetings concluded. Sabbath afternoon some students from SDA found a railing near the ledge to walk on and soon had other schools joining in. Elizabeth Distler was crowned the undisputed winner of the event. The weekend ended with vespers and supper. Students said goodbye to newly made friends and old acquaintances as they boarded the buses ending the '83 Bible Camp.

Boy was Bible camp different this year! Alot of fun though. SS

I wanted to go!

ALUMNI WEEKEND

Alumni Weekend brought former students back to the realm of San Diego Academy. The honored classes this year were '34, '58, and '73. Sabbath school and church began the special weekend with Marvin Mitchell, the Senior class president of 1958, giving the sermon. During the potluck following the church service the cafeteria hummed with the sound of people reliving fond memories.

A vesper program with songs from the Chorale and a skit by the SDA officers closed the Sabbath. Esther Gonzales and Alvin Najera were presented with the Alumi Scholarships for $500 each. These two students were selected by their fellow students for their high achievement.

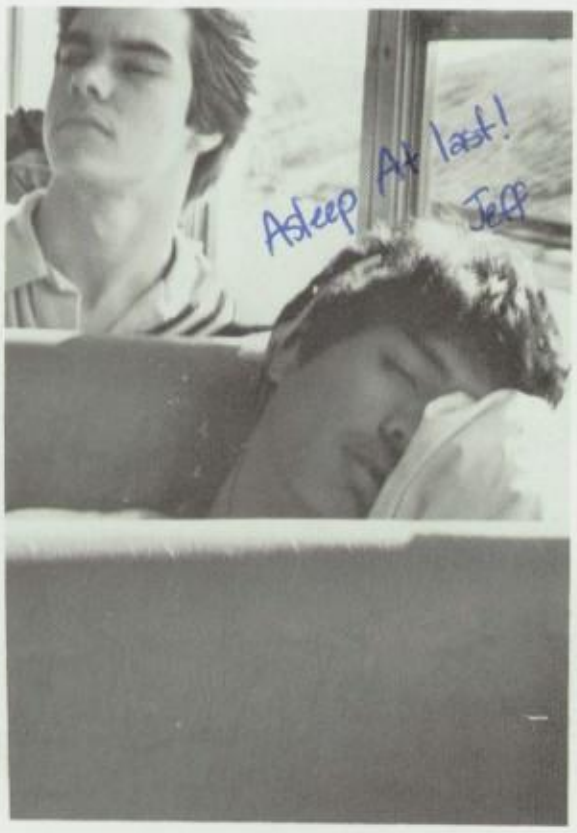
After a short break, the Alumni vs. Academy All-Stars basketball game got underway. The game started out as a repeat of past games as the Alumni jumped out to a fast and substantial lead, but the All Stars battled back. The Alumni team barely managed a one-point victory.

The last event of the weekend was the Third Annual Alumni Fun Run. Fourty-one runners braved the hilly, 6.2 mile course for the reward of a t-shirt and possibly a trophy for coming in first in their age group.

TOURS

This year there were two choral groups, the Girl's Chorus and the Sigma Delta Chorale, who went on tour. The Girl's Chorus travelled for thirteen hours to Arizona where they spent their time sightseeing at Grand Canyon and local historical parks as well as singing for the Cottonwood Adventist Church.

So fun!



A month later, the Sigma Delta Chorale travelled North to Pacific Union College. Their touring schedule contained ten concerts and a visit to Winchester House in San Jose. Even with this busy schedule, the Chorale members had time to be involved in activities like playing basketball against PUC Prep School, playing charades, and watching "Winds of War" on the bus.

Oooh!

CAREER DAY

Career Day gives students an opportunity to talk with people in different professions. Under the direction of Work Experience Coordinator, Berit Osborne, Career Day went successfully and smoothly.

Prepared with questions, students went from table to table gaining valuable insights from the representatives. Students furthered their explorations in different occupations by trying their hand at stitching sutures, giving shots to oranges and guessing how many calories were in different foods.

Dog, cakes and hairdressers added to the excitement as students crowded around trying to see everything. Besides being colorful and fun, Career Day provides a glimpse into what the future has in store.

REWARD TRIP

An old saying states that every cloud has a silver lining. The referral system proved to be a big cloud to many students, but the reward trip was a fitting silver lining. Despite all the complaining and grumbling about referrals, the students proved to be made of good quality as nearly half of the student body, eighty-one kids, qualified to go on the first reward trip. This fact was praiseworthy considering the criteria for being able to go. Only students with two or less citizenship referral points and no more than two tardies were allowed to participate in the event.

Fletcher parkway was chosen for the 1st quarter reward trip. Students enjoyed miniature golf, arcade games, bumper boats and all of the other activities offered at the Family Fun Center.

RIVER TRIP

The annual Colorado River Trip is the Hiking and Camping Club's most attended outing. The promise of leisurely drifting down a glassy river while soaking up a dark tan lures a good group of students each year. This year was no exception and as the students loaded up their gear at the school early Sunday morning all talk was about the weather.

Spirits sunk low as cloudy skies greeted the eager canoeists at the starting point — McIntyre Park. Conditions worsened when rain and wind woke everyone the next morning, but later in the day, the sun pushed back the clouds and stayed out for the remainder of the week. The campers braved all sorts of inconveniences, but enjoyed the outdoor life immensely. Singing under the starry skies, hikes at night, and backrubs from friends added to the fun and magic of the river and made memories to last a lifetime.

SPRING FLING

The Academy caught baseball fever thanks to some prompting by the SA. The SA hosted the spring banquet at Jack Murphy Stadium on the Sunday in May that the Dodgers came to town to visit the Padres. Faculty and students alike turned up before the game for a tailgate party by one of our yellow buses. Submarine sandwiches, chips, fruit, and candy bars were on the menu.

The sun beat down a little heavily but no one minded once the game started. The majority of the students claimed the Padres as their team while the faculty seemed to favor the Dodgers. Friendly insults were traded back and forth throughout the afternoon and added to the fun of the day.

In the end, Dodger Blue won the game 3-2 and the faculty cheered the loudest. The students, undaunted by the jibes, went back to the bus to finish off the candy bars, chips, and drinks. Then everyone loaded up to face the parking lot traffic to get home.

SPRING PICNIC

The Spring Picnic was once again held at Kearny Mesa Park. Baseball games were played first. Freshmen and Sophomore teams faced each other while the Juniors confronted the Seniors. Classmates cheered heartily for their teams which made the competition quite heated at times. In the end, the Sophomores clinched both boy's and girl's games while the Juniors and Seniors split their victories. Junior girls and Senior boys triumphed over their opponents.

The afternoon was spent participating in games. Jumping rope, walking on stilts, and gobbling ice cream were some of the activities the SA invented to keep everyone busy. The sun and excitement were enjoyed by all and the picnic provided a welcome break from the routine of school.

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

For the first time in the Academy's history the Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the Hotel del Coronado. Besides being the biggest social event of the year, the prospect of having the banquet at such a classy place ran upperclassmen's spirits into a fever.

The Juniors worked hard to live up to everyone's expectations and no one was disappointed. The "Academy Awards" were first on the program after dinner. The winners of the different categories were awarded very original prizes from the Junior class that kept everyone laughing. But the room was quiet with reminiscing as Judie Rogers sang "Memories" after the awards.

The major event of the night was a slide show of the Seniors. To the surprise of many of the Seniors, the presentation was complete with baby pictures. The evening closed with a poem written to the Senior class by Barbara Thompson.

Our hats are off to the Junior class and their sponsors for an excellent evening.

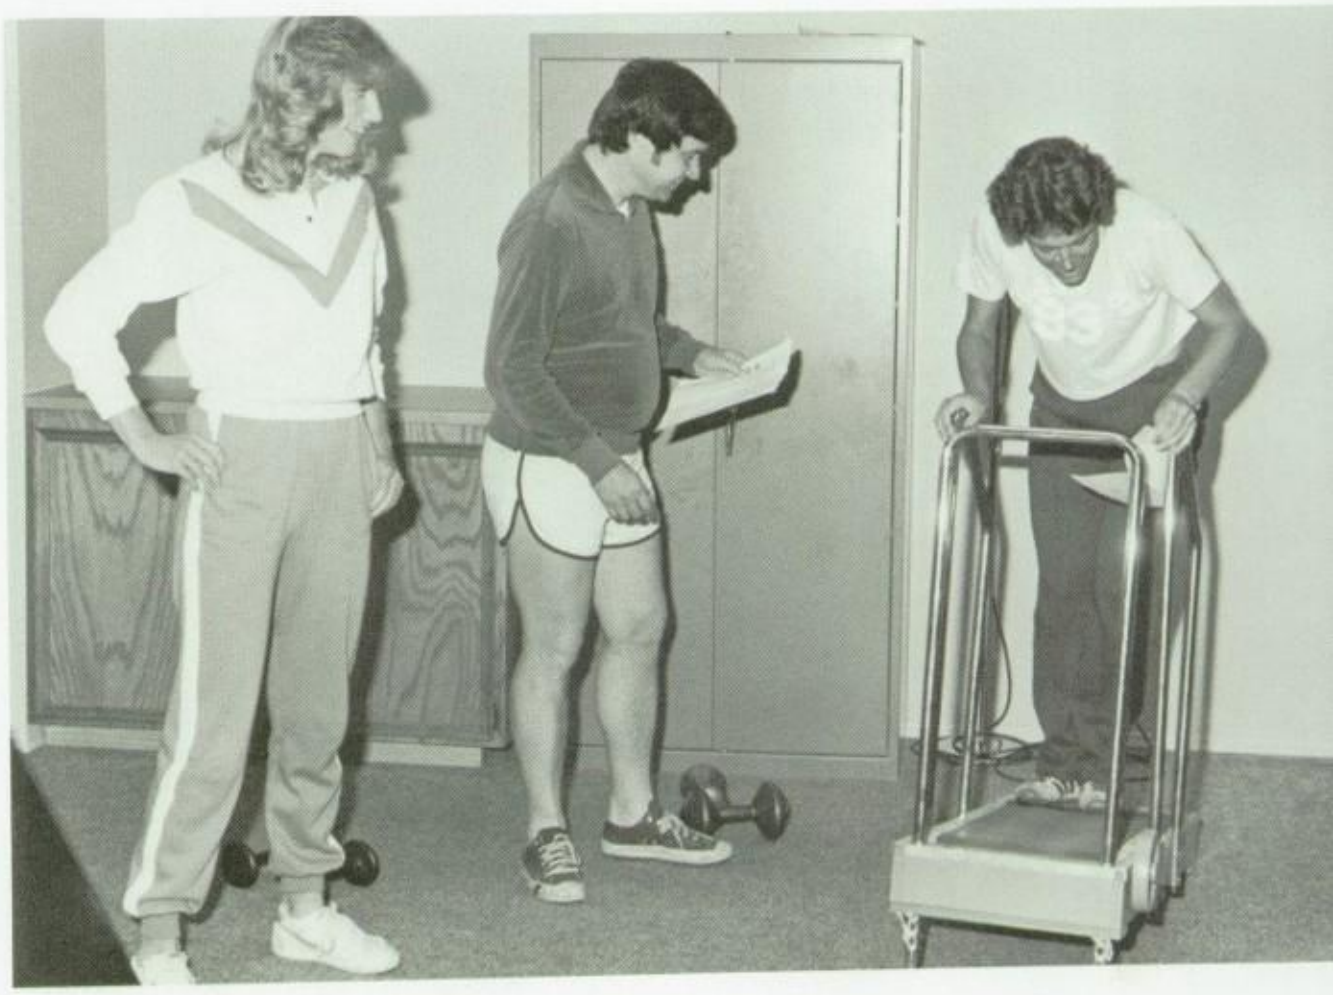
TRIAL BY JURY

This year the music department of the Academy put on a special program in place of the spring concert. The community band performed first under the direction of Mr. Harry Bennett.

Following the selections from the band was a presentation of "Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial By Jury" featuring the Sigma Delta Chorale and the Ladies Chorus. The program was a major production complete with authentic costumes, props, and even television coverage.

The kids were in their element and put their whole hearts into their singing. The main actors were superb and the overall smoothness of the opera reflected the hours of practice and work put into the evening. The attentive audience enjoyed themselves to the fullest and the evening was a terrific success. Mrs. Hanson well deserved every bit of recognition and appreciation she received at the end of the program for being the backbone of the whole production.

FACULTY SENIOR BANQUET



One evening in early June, the Faculty and Seniors gathered at the Bonita Church's fellowship hall for the annual Faculty/Senior Banquet hosted by the Faculty. The teachers decided to make the "FOB Squad" feel at home and provided an oriental meal from the homeland complete with rice. After dinner the Faculty presented the traditional play. The scenes from the future were acted out in the "FOB SPA". Carrying scripts and frequently losing their places, the actors portrayed the Senior class officers. The skit was humorous and even during the dry moments Mr. Bougher managed to bring laughter from the audience. After the play, Mr. Bottroff gave the closing prayer. Everyone present agreed that the Faculty/Senior Banquet was just "too funny"

GRADUATION

The 1983 graduation weekend was in many ways like the ones which had gone before it — Friday night Consecration in the Paradise Valley Church, Sabbath Sacred Concert at the La Mesa Church, and Class Night and Commencement in the gym — yet in many ways it was unique. While Mrs. Berit Osborne gave us one of the best Consecration speeches in recent memory, Marcelo Acob's reply to her remarks was also memorable. The performance of many talented seniors at the Sacred Concert under the direction of Pamela Agustines was excellent. The Grand Finale to Class Night which was choreographed by Raquel Owens was a truly awesome spectacle. The Junior class decorated the gym beautifully for Commencement and, all in all, it was a great send-off for the Class of '83 and, hopefully, a big welcome to active alumni.

Todd,

Why did you ever leave Medical Records. It was sooo fun working there I know. I remember how you would go on and on about the people that worked there. I got the impression you really loved them. Especially Esther and Marty. Not to mention Maria. The problems you brought on yourself were very interesting. It was always a blast when you were working and there were two on. Everything from the tube system to multi-colored plastic tab finger nails. You're too crazy.

Things have become too boring lately. Hope you enjoy it down at Insurance. Keep working hard? Have a great Summer and have a great Summer and have a great Summer and a Senior year. Don't get burned like last year. Ha!

See ya,
Larry

"I'm a part of the solution, not a part of the problem," says Carole Dennis. "I was recently reminded of the critical need for Seventh-day Adventist nurses in Adventist hospitals and decided to do something about it."

After 15 years of working in non-SDA hospitals, Carole joined Paradise Valley Hospital. Since then good things have happened to her and to the patients and families she contacts.

"At PVH," she says, "I feel I'm on the front lines of my faith. Here, prayer with my patients is not just tolerated as it is at other places. It's encouraged and expected. I like to put my beliefs to work."

You, too, can experience the joys of witnessing as a Christian health-care professional. For additional information regarding the opportunities to share your faith at PVH, write the Personnel Office or call us at (714) 470-6311.

The purpose of this game, called Risko, is to give you an estimate of your chances of suffering a heart attack. Study each risk factor in the accompanying chart. Find the box which applies to you and circle the large number in it. For example, if you are 18, circle the number in the box labeled 18-20 in the column after age. This will give you a score, in this case, of 1. After checking the appropriate number in all the rows, add the total of the numbers you have circled. This is your risk score. The total of the numbers you have circled will give you a risk factor which will fall into one of the following areas:

6-11 Risk well below average.
12-17 Risk below average.
18-24 Risk generally average.
25-31 Risk moderate.
32-40 Risk at a dangerous level.
41-62 Danger urgent. See your doctor now.

Hey hey hey whats going on? (thought I'd say that, it fits the occation)
Well Todd can you believe we are finally going to be seniors. After all these hard years here. What a relief. It has been a fun year though. I have enjoyed getting to know ——— you & Kel better. You guys ore so funny. I like having you in classes because you brighten them up. Im looking to next year, for another crazy time. It was fun at the barquet when we~~'re~~ were so great doing our little bit. We are famous now! Wow. Im so proud of us. So Todd have a very terrific summer and see ya next year.

Friends always,
Barbara

Dear Todd, This year has been great. Your fun to have around and I enjoy talking to you. Even though you like to tease me. Well maybe next year you'll get some sense.

I hope that everything you plan to do in your life goes great. College, Be have at work. Are you going to La Siera or another

Well Todd I hope you enjoy trying to read this. Well now I just have to stand up space. Remember when you would use to always tease me in spanish

Love Julie Allen

Dear Todd,

Well strange one! what can I say to my little friend "84" Actually I think I owe you a quarter, but since I'm on the verge of going bankrupt I think you'll let me off on the hook. You're a crazy person, but you have made these years at SD Academy exciting for me with all your cool and sophisticated ways. I'm going to miss all of you next year. Please come up and visit us once in awhile. Take care of Missy and don't keep her out late at nights too much, It's embarrising to come home on a Sat. nite before your younger sister

Love, Julie

Dear Todd,
Hey Buddy. I don't know what to say. When I first got to know you about 8th grade you were all quite and shy now Well whatch out. Your a really sweet person and fun to be around. Hope that we always continue to be friends and have a good yr. next yr. Be course it will be a Pi Rules forever

Hey Todd Love, Lori

The past year has gone so fast. It s like bible camp was the other day. The p Two years have gone fast. Before we kn well be on college. It's be great having you in my cl and its been fun driving Castillo nuts. I hate that

High Todd,

So, how's it goin? Its the end of another year! sniff- it went by so quickly. Just think, well be BIG SENIORS next year. We can boss everyone around then. Thats something to look forward to. At the beginning of the year we weren't exactly the greatest of friends. Im glad things have changed - your real special what would we have done without you in spanish and History class? it would have been extremely boring. your real crazy- even though your trying very hard to be a little Angel in Mrs. Castillios class. we all know better though. Have a great summer and I hope to see you sometime during it. Take good care of yourself and Stay cute. Come back with a dark tan and drive all the girls crazy!

Love ya,
Shii

P.S. I love those SOL's

Dear Todd,

It's hard to think of what to write to you. Except that I'm glad I got to know you. You really make things fun when your around. I always need to laugh and when your there there's sure to be a few.

To bad you weren't in my class or we weren't in the same, maybe then my days wouldn't be such a dud. Oh well I guess you can't be that lucky to be in the same class as me - just kidding. I'll really miss you next year, so lets keep in touch - espically since I'll most likely be down here. Have fun and make the most out of your senior year.

Let's do something this summer - give me a call.

Good luck
Love,
SOHOFA
Rules!

Tara Jon

83 Rules! 84 is okay.

Dear Todd,

I've grown alot closer to you this year. I cherish the friendship that we have and I hope to never lose it. I hope you have a very happy and successful life which I'm sure you will! Your very sweet and quite funny. Hope to see you this summer and always keep in touch.

Todd, so how's it going we have had a rad time working down here in Patients accounts even though we did get mad at a couple of people down here. Like Jodye and still Israel maybe someday she will get over it. Well one of these days I am going to steal your job then I am going to be working on the CRT better Jam running out of space

Love
Always,
Judie (G.M.C.)

Eric

Dear Todd:

Well, another year gone. Hard to believe we graduate next year! (If we make it thru Chem & Physics)

You're a really terrific guy & I'm glad we're friends. I don't know what I'll do this summer with no one to bug me. No more "fights" at your lockers. Keep smiling & see you next year!

Love ya,
Valerie
'84
Rules

Hey Todd!
Well I guess all-in-all it's been a pretty fill in the blank year, I guess it's not its Good & Bad Points. The Junior year has a way of maturing us. It seems like our class is a lot closer this years-end than before. I guess reality of our last year together in high school has a way of making us think more about ourselves. It's been fun knowing you this year & I hope Better friends you next year we can become & always find a way to make me laugh. Have a great summer, see you next year - our greatest ever - year 84 Rules forever - Monte

Dear Todd, (Heralds) I know, I spelled it wrong.
That sounds weird, like I'm writing to myself. Wow, we've done a lot this year I remember when we first snuck to a Rated R movie. We're still doing it now, but legally now. (besides Kelvin) I think in a lot of ways the older we get the crazier we get around each other. Oh well, its not like were juveniles. Seems like we've both learned a lot in the past year. (especially about girls) I appreciated too you being there when I needed someone to talk to. Especially when I wanted to let off steam against Mike. I'm glad that's over. We've been through a lot together, remember the Mrs. Castillo bothering incident. She was a real bitch. We both survived it. There are a lot more good times than bad though. I remember Bible Camp when I locked you and Kelvin in my (our) room and Kelvin ended up attacking me and you escaping. He went crazy on me. I will never ever forget how crazy we act in Geometry. If Mr. Bruce only knew how much work we did to get an A he would be shocked. He probably wouldn't even know, he's still delerious from all the noise. Remember all the bugging of Profesora, the humming, the leaf and change in her water. I'm not in your guys English, but I wish I were. Ours is a dud. I laughed hard when you dressed up as Tootsie. In U.S. History all those movies we were disturbing by sticking our hands up and just bugging the Hell out of Ron (in a wig) The good times just go on, and will continue at La Sierra. I'm glad I got you as a friend last year. I've never had more fun in my life. The biggest help for me was when you and Kelvin and I went to the Movies after me and Barbara broke up I was in the dumps and you guys helped. Next year we'll need to have another stag party. Ours was long. (get it, John Holmes long) Well gotta go. Friends Forever, "84"

P.S. Next year you'll have to swoop on you know who.

Todd

miles

Dear Todd,
I'm glad that I got you in a couple of my classes, you're a real funny and very cute guy. Stay that way and come back next year. Have a great summer.
-84 - Love
Ramona Lyon

Todd,
It's been nice knowing you and you're really funny. But you don't crack the jokes like Rdoctrizk / You + Kelly be laughing so loud in English at even M.35 Burnsgarel stuff. Well, see you next year Love Dan

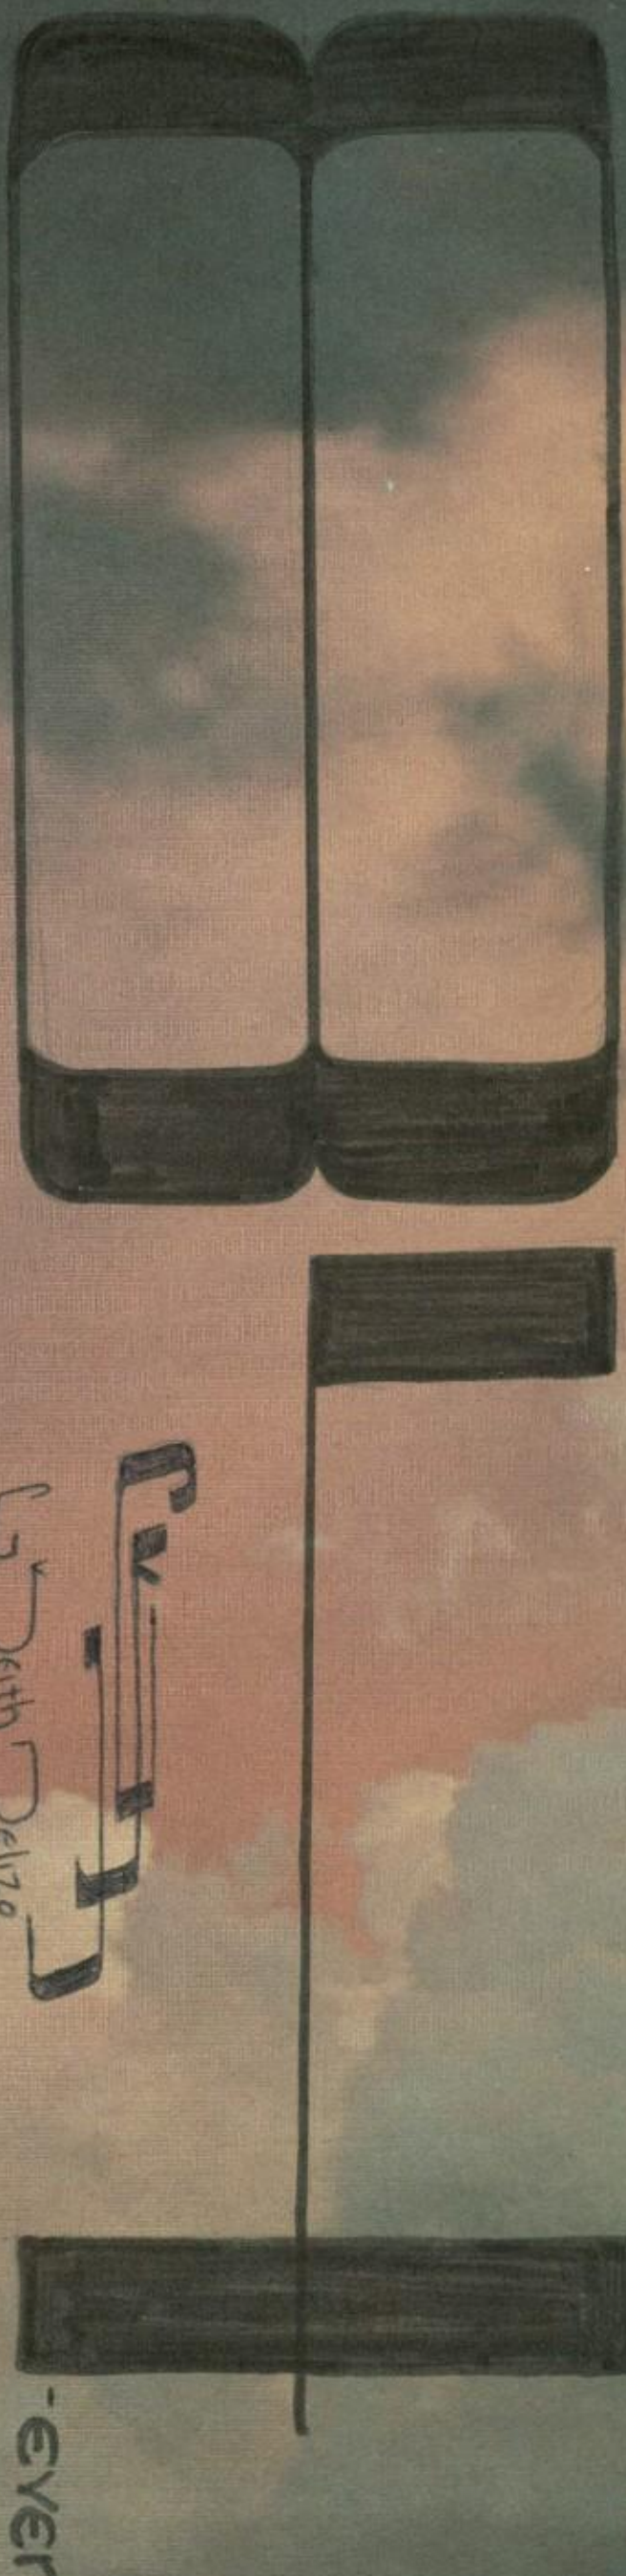
Dear Todd,
I enjoyed your class and you're really funny. Hope to see you next year. Have a great summer.
Margie

Todd,

So hey! How's it going? Boy have we had fun this year. To name a few (and in no order) ① Band - especially the tour. We must have played UNO for hours. And Harry is the undisputed all-time favorite teacher of mine. He even writes notes to me during church. ② My driving lessons - when I get my license, I'll give you all the credit. If I haven't killed you by then ③ Family Fun Center. For a little boy, you did ④ Jr Banquet - Even though you did say too many nice things about the Seniors ⑤ Bible Camp - Too bad your "throne" got popped on. HA Next year we will reach the top. ⑥ and everything else I can't remember.

You're a nice guy except when you're teasing, gossiping, & writing careful notes (trick) Boy I didn't mean to write so much but then I owe it to you since I've had it for more than a day now.

Love

Missy


P.S. Don't believe everything you hear about me in the office
